Mike Lebler Honored with Cyclone Hockey's Player of the Week Title

Lebler's three goals this weekend and superior leadership earn him title

Oct. 17, 2010 – Ames, Iowa - Cyclone Hockey is happy to honor Mike Lebler as Player of the Week. Lebler scored three goals, including one short-handed goal, in the series against Davenport University.

Mike is an excellent all-around offensive player. He is a proven playmaker and goal scorer. With six goals and five assists in 10 games played, Lebler averages 1.10 points per game. This is Mike's fourth season with the Cyclone's, and he is currently one of two assistant captains.

Originating from Penticton, British Columbia, Lebler played for the Nelson Leafs in the KIJHL before his career at Iowa State. Mike is currently a senior in Construction Engineering and an exceptional student.

Head Coach Dr. Alan Murdoch is very satisfied with Lebler's performance this season. "Lebler is an assistant captain who quietly leads by example. He performs very well on special teams and is a great all-around player."
